PART A: CHOICE ITEMS

ACTIVITY 1

Listen to items 1a-4a and choose the best option (A-F). There is one option that you do not need.

EX: So, we're going to put on our dancing shoes! We're going to show you some of the basic jazz dance moves. So let's get started. You'll start off by learning the neutral position, the basic starting position. Here you should face forward, with your hands on your waist, fingers spread apart. You keep your legs and feet apart, but parallel to each other, facing forward.

- 1a. The next position is the first position. Here you face forward again, but you keep your legs close together, with the feet pointing outwards, making a v shape.
- 2a. This one is similar to the first position, but here you hold your legs apart, with your feet making the v shape again, but this time far apart from each other.
- 3a. In this one, you put one foot in front of the other, bending the knees, and you lift the back of the foot up off the ground. You hold the arms behind you.
- 4a. But don't expect to get to the high kicks yet, however! You'll be able to do this only after some time and after a lot of practice!

The Magic Fern Flower

Many countries across Europe have a legend about the magic fern, a plant which is supposed to flower on just one night a year. Exactly at the stroke of midnight, the fern plant blossoms with one beautiful flower. The flower lives just one night and disappears at daybreak. The legend tells that if someone manages to take a fern flower, then all their wishes will be granted immediately – but, that they cannot share the things that they wish for with anyone else, or they will lose them all. The legend tells of a young boy who goes into the woods on this magical night, and tries to find the magic flower and steal it. Twice he tries, and twice he fails. On the third time he finally succeeds. His every wish is granted, and he becomes rich and powerful. But he cannot share his money and power with anyone that he loves. And so he lives a lonely life. When he loses all the people he once loved and is quite alone in the world, he realizes the mistake he has made, and wishes to die. His wish is immediately granted, and the ground opens up and swallows him into its depths.

- 8a. Hi. Look, I've had a small accident. Now don't worry, it's OK. I've gone to the hospital by taxi and hopefully I'll be alright. So just call me as soon as you can.
- 9a. Hallo, it's Mrs Wilson from 8A. You must send somebody immediately. There is water coming into the kitchen from the door and I don't know what to do.
- 10a. OK, I'm leaving now. But look, I've left the chicken in the fridge. Can you please take it and put it in the oven on 200 degrees. Start it now so that it'll be ready for 8.00.

ACTIVITY 4

Read items 11a-15a, listen and choose the best answer (A, B, or C) for each item.

So... my nightmare trip was when we'd gone to Italy—about 10 years ago. We were going to 3 cities, Rome, Florence and then Venice. There were five of us, lots to organize. Anyway, we were going from Rome to Florence, and we booked this place and I told this woman we would be there about 4.00. Well, we were late, we got on the train much later and I realized on the train that I didn't have the address or the phone number of this woman printed out. This was before smart phones. My husband said "never mind, never mind, we'll get off the train and use the computer and connect in Florence and find the details". But we didn't, we couldn't. So by then it is much later than the time we'd told her we'd be there and I had to go and find an internet café. So it gets to about 10.00, 11.00 at night and we haven't found the place. We have all this luggage—and we get a taxi there finally and we're ringing the bell and ringing the bell and no-one answers. I actually see at one point this woman's head on the second or third floor, but she's not answering the phone. It's very late by then. And then someone says, "Look, there's a note on the door with your name on it." I open it up and it says "Good evening, Jane. You are very late, this is very rude and inconsiderate, you will not be staying at our place tonight. Goodbye." So we had nowhere to stay, all this luggage, very late and there we were stuck with all these family members at that time of night. I was so angry with myself for not having everything printed out, and of course, the moral of the tale is that..."

PART B - SHORT ANSWERS

ACTIVITY 1

Listen and fill in items 1b-5b with the right word, as in the example.

EX: And cameras ready.... Lightssound and action. No, no, no – cut! Let's start again.

- 1b. I'm not really sure if I like how you've designed the kitchen. It's too small, I think. Why don't you join it with the dining room, and have one big space? OK, I could do that. The bedrooms are fine, but we need another bathroom for guests.
- 2b. I'll put it in your lunchbox, OK? Tuna with brown bread, right? Yup. Do you want mayonnaise? Yes, yes. I haven't got any lettuce, though, I'll put in tomato and cucumber, OK?
- 3b. So I want you to make one to advertise the concert next week. We'll put it on the wall and the windows of the school bus. Make it clear, big letters, put the name of the band and pictures, and obviously the date and time etc.
- 4b. Right, so check if we've got all the ingredients: sugar, eggs, flour, butter. And chocolate – very important! So, start by beating the sugar and butter together – these need to be mixed very well together. Then mix the eggs, and put them in afterwards ... Then you put in the flour... and the chocolate chips go in at the end.

- 5b. So why don't you make one yourself? Grandma will be so happy to get something that you've made! You can write 'Happy Birthday' to Grandma from Susie on the inside, and you can draw lots of nice pictures on the outside. Let's do it today, so that we can post it tomorrow and it will get there in time for her birthday.

ACTIVITY 2

Listen and fill in items 6b-10b with the right word, as in the example.

EX: I believe the excitement around your visit, Holy Father, must be attributed not only to your role as Pope, but to your unique qualities as a person. In your humility, your embrace of simplicity, in the gentleness of your words and the generosity of your spirit, we see a living example of Jesus' teachings, a leader whose moral authority comes not just through words, but also through deeds. You remind us that in the eyes of God...

6b. One of the reasons our country is so proud of this year's Team USA is 2016 belonged to America's women Olympians. I mean no question. We had more women competing in these Games than any nation ever. Our women alone won more golds than most countries did. Our women's 61 medals – most ever by any women's team – breaking the record set by, of course Team USA four years ago. It makes me really proud. So thank you – all the great jobs that you guys did.

7b. You're helping young people to learn the basics of reading and writing and adding and subtracting. You're serving as mentors and, probably most importantly, as role models. You help kindle young imaginations, and you inspire a love of learning. Your daily efforts help young Americans grow into successful adults. In other words, you're building the future for the country.

8b. You are about to embark upon the great crusade toward which we have striven these many months. The eyes of the world are upon you. The hopes and prayers of liberty loving people everywhere march with you. In company with our brave allies and brothers in arms on other fronts, you will bring about security for ourselves in a free world. Your task will not be an easy one. Your enemy is well-trained, well-equipped and battle hardened. He will fight savagely. But this is the year 1944. Much has happened

9b. President:	Hallo, Commander, can you hear us?
Commander:	Welcome aboard the International Space Station, where we're joined with our international crew from the Space Shuttle Discovery. Welcome aboard. Glad to hear your voice. We hear you loud and clear, sir.
President:	Well, thank you so much for taking the time to speak to us. We've got a crew of wonderful schoolchildren here who are all interested in space. I'm told that you are cruising at about 17,000 miles per hour.
Commander:	Mr President, we go around the planet once every 90 minutes. It's quite a thrill, it's very fast and we see 16 sunrises and 16 sunsets every day.

10b. I'm here tonight because I appreciate the work that all of you do and the role that you play. You report the news as it happens, and you're covering history as it's made. With a handheld camera or a mike, or now even a cell phone or a blog, you bring the truth to people and allow people to bring truth to the world. a voice for those who want to be heard, bearing witness to universal aspirations of democracy and freedom. Often at great risk, and sometimes with great sacrifice, they do it because the rest of us need to hear the stories that they tell. And everywhere there's a story that needs to be told.
